

FAQ of photographers answered here

Question #1: What do you consider your photography style to be?

Photojournalistic pictures have become very popular. I capture events as they happen without a lot of posing. I combine both traditional and photojournalistic styles into a montage of images.

Question #2: Do you shoot color, black and white, or both?

I capture the image in color, and then alter the images in B+W as well as a trendy hybrid of “half tone”. Also some technical hand coloring of some images, where the whole image is B+W and some point of color is hand painted, say flowers, or balloons, or something highly colorful in the image.

Question #3: Do you bring an assistant or second photographer?

Not generally. I primarily shoot alone, and find that once I know the schedule of events I am in the right spot at the right time.

Question #4: Do you work well with videographers?

Yes, I make it a point to visit with the videographers before the actual ceremony, so in the event I don't know them, we familiarize ourselves and our styles, so there are no mishaps.

Question #5: Do you correct your photos?

With each package an amount of images will be corrected and touched up. Additional photos are touched up at the request of the couple for a fee. But as a rule about 100 images will be touched up.

Question #6: Will the photographer give you a high resolution cd of your images?

Yes, and in addition a copyright release for you to print, copy or reproduce the images at your leisure. This is owning the negatives and comes standard on most packages.

Question #7: Are you willing to have input on the photos that we want?

Absolutely! It is your day. And I am unfamiliar with your family dynamic, or if someone special is coming and I am always willing and ask if there is anything special that needs to be captured.

Question #8: Are you the actual photographer who will be shooting on my wedding day?

Yes. When you retain my services I am the one who will photograph your wedding. 100% of the time. In 10 year I havent missed a wedding.

Question #9: Are you familiar with my ceremony/reception site?

Most of the sites in Las Vegas, I have worked at or worked with, and so there are no surprises for me.

Question #10: What comes in my photography package?

Package lists are included on the pricing page and if there any questions about those I can answer via telephone or email. 702-501-5060 or bsteffyphoto@gmail.com
